

ExxonMobil Information Session

Sept. 30th, 2019
11:30am - 1:00pm
Trojan Presentation Room (STU) B3

We're looking for engineering interns and full time hires who are ready to tackle complex challenges—and hungry to make a real-world impact on our global business.

What you can expect at ExxonMobil:

Challenging projects

Our global operations span all kinds of business needs. Whether it's identifying more efficient production methods, detecting equipment anomalies or deriving insights that will shape our next steps as a company—your work will be a driving force behind a better, stronger ExxonMobil.

Limitless opportunity

Every part of our business is waiting on your help to unlock valuable knowledge. And because you'll be working alongside seasoned experts from a variety of backgrounds, you'll be able to learn and grow along the way—no matter where you are in your career.

Long-term career

We know it's common to have to switch companies just to grow your career. But not at ExxonMobil. Here, you can build your own unique path—moving into different areas and roles as your skill sets evolve. Along with competitive salary and benefits, it's how we invest in the people who make what we do possible.

Where your expertise is needed

ExxonMobil is recruiting all engineering majors to work within a number of areas inside our business, including:

- Drilling
- Exploration
- Manufacturing
- Sales & Marketing
- Research
- Supply chain